

Workshop on Open Access Resources for Scholarly Communication

Date: December 7, 2024

Overview:

The workshop focused on guiding researchers and students on how to identify, access, and effectively utilize open-access journals, repositories, and other scholarly resources for their academic work.

Outcome:

Improved research capabilities and access to a wider range of academic literature, promoting ethical research practices and enhancing the quality of scholarly communication.